Letter from Col. Thomas Dewling. TERRE HAUTE, Dec. 16, 1857.

DEAR SIR:-I notice in your paper of the 12th, that you are led into error in regard to what the Democratic Convention of Vigo County did resolve on the subject of the Charter of the Bank of the State. No resolution was passed "denouncing" that Charter, nor does such appear in its published proceedings. It is equally untrue that I "earnestly protested," or protested at all against a resolution introduced by an individul member of the Convention in regard to the Convention in regard to the Convention. of the Convention in regard to the Canal, nor was there a word uttered by any one in regard to that resolution. A very weak minded editor here for his own malicious purposes, left that impression our mind, and I regret that you should have listened to all he says, without more respectable authority. He can hurt no man at home.

I know you will excuse this intrusion upon your space. While the misrepresentation was confined to the original channel here, it was not worthy of even a line of comment. Very truly, yours, THOS. DOWLING.

Harmony and Union.

The enemies of the Democracy are just not inbilant with the hope that a division will occur in their ranks. We advise them to lay not that flattering unction to their souls or build up hopes of future success on so uncertain a found The Democracy will "stand by their flag" and the organization upon which rests the integrity and perpetuation of the Government. Reason, disussion and reflection will soon solve the question ow agitating the party and a policy will be de veloped consistent with our principles and just in its application. No questions of principle are in volved in the present controversy, but only those of expediency. Upon the doctrine of Popular Sovereignty the Democracy are a unit, while there is and may justly be a difference of sentimeut in the practical application of the principle in a Territorial government. If the people of Kansas have not determined upon their organic act, under the vote upon the Lecompton Constitution, in a manner which will permit her admis sion into the Union under it, we have not a doubt but some other just and practicable mode will be , That every Democrat of Vigo county developed which will heal the difficulties in that Territory, unless its citizens prefer their present territorial punilage, or anarchy, to constitutional

We are happy to notice that the discussion Kansas affairs by the press and by the people is ssuming a conciliatory spirit. This is as it should be. It is the unanimous wish that Kansas should be promptly admitted into the Union and thus terminate a question which, for the purpose of gratifying political aspirations, has well nigh jeopardiz d the peace of the country, if not the continuance of the government. Any measure ust to the people of Kansas and in accordance imously adopted:

1. Resolved, That the principles laid down in the National and State platforms of 1856 merit, will secure that end, will receive the cordial approval of the country. Upon this question there s no occasion for strife and dissension. It only requires confidence in those to whom we have entrusted the conduct of our public affairs and patience to await the result to have this question. which has suddenly assumed an apparent knotty entanglement, satisfactorily solved.

It gives us pleasure to copy the following ex tracts from leading Democratic papers. North and South, indicating that a spirit prevails which will insure the future harmony and union of the Democratic party. The Washington Union of the 18th says:

On a single point there is a diversity of opinio among members of the Democratic party as to the proper policy to pursue. The issue is a tem-porary one, that must quickly find its solution in the action of the people of Kansas themselves, or in the authoritative action of Congress. Wisdom and sound policy urge that no hasty decision shall be pronounced upon a transitory issue which might array a section of the party against a Dem- or contingencies as charged in the Courier and ocratic Administration and a great majority of its own members. The tone of the dissenting press pursued to defeat those measures.

Resolved, That we approve of the election of Hons. Jesse D. Bright and Graham N. Fitch to the United States Senate by the last General Assembly, and regard them as eminently deservable.

Assembly, and regard them as eminently deservable and esteem of the Democan event that cannot now be long postponed.—
Then eforth the Kinsis question will cease to be an issue affecting national politics, and the people of Kinsis will have no occasion to obtrule the management of their local affairs upon Congres-

The New Jersey True American, the leading the Democratie party, utters the following excelient sentiments:

Like the Union itself, if once severed, there will be found no adhesive property firmly to unite it again. Our foes are jubilant at the prospect of dissolution. The black wings of abolition are already spread in exultation. Let us take warning. Let us stand to our arms. There may exist at the present moment motives for differences of opinion between men of the same political creed, but none for dissension, none for division; and we have reason to hope and believe that the exultation of the ene nies of the democracy is to feel the Courier is willing to go the entire animal for the political principles and policy enunciated in the President's message. To this a por tion of the Democracy there are opposed. They Like the Union itself, if once severed, there will exultation of the ene nies of the democracy is premature and unfounded. If true to ourselves no narm can befall us; neither the wise, prudent, and sagacious chiettain of our party, nor any of its great leaders will permit a dissolution of those ties which bind the democracy of the Union together, nor will they permit any sacrifice of the great principles which have so long sustained us, and made our every effort successful. Stand to your arms, we say, democrats! But let them be pointed at the prowiing enemy, who, under the guise of friendship, is approaching your camp; and not on the friends, who are with you easy prey to your relentless foes. The Louisville Democrat says:

We see that the opposition conceive great hopes of a split in the Democratic party on this The Cleveland Plain Dealer says:

listened to all he says, without more respectable authority. He can hurt no man at home.

I did oppose a resolution nominating Judge Douglas for the Presidency in 1860, as I should the nomination of any other man at this early day. My remarks were to that point, and had no reference to the fitness of Judge D. for the positian to which his friends would assign him. The resolution was carried by a majority of eight, after scores had left the Court House, who were known to be hostile to so early a commitment on the subject of the Presidency. There was nothing as very "chilling" in all this. I will also add, if it is a matter of any consequence to know it, that all the regular resolutions adopted by that Convention were offered and written by me, and that they were concurred in without a dissenting voice. Be assured that I had no cause of disappointment at the proceedings of that meeting, and The Plain Dealer will keep on the even tenor that they were concurred in without a dissenting voice. He assured that I had no cause of dissenting pointment at the proceedings of that meeting, and I know that, as my personal friend, you will not segret this statement.

This a matter of principle (and perhaps to some extent, of taste,) whether you and I, as Whiggion in the Republican or Democratic parties. Our good old party is foundered, and no longer affort, but as a Whig I must say that I never will join the men who centraled that noble ship for their own purposes, and who abandoned it for a new name and now principles. This declaration may earn for me renewed abuse in some quarters, but that will not lessen my own self respect for the course which direcumstances have compelled me to adopt, under the changed condition of political parties. You and I have both "new associates," and if you are proud of the compelled me to adopt, under the changed condition of political parties. You and I have both "new associates," and if you are proud of the compelled me to adopt, under the changed condition of political parties. We predict knases will be a free State in grant to the officers and men engaged in the several expectation. We predict knases will be a free State in the sum of this Union, sovereign over all domestic questions of its own, it less than ninety days, and we predict too that in less than ninety days, and we predict too that in less than ninety days, and we predict too that in less than ninety days thereafter, this hybrid Black Republican party will be dings, Hale, Morton, and Julian, I need not blands and Pitch. We can surely jog along without marring the remembrance of "suld lang syne."

I mow you will expect the intrusion upon your space. While the misrepresentation was confined to the original channel here, it was not construct the proper of the North West," whave nothing to do with the united states for the reason that, according to our ideas of popular soveriginty, walkey nouthing to do with the united states of the Junted States for the reason

We have been very temperate on the matter, for the reason that, according to our ideas of popular sovereignty, we have nothing to do with it, until, at least, the people of Kansas shall have expressed their opiniou in the way pointed out by law.

We think some of our Demogratic cotemporaries that have been unnecessarily in a hurry in expressing and a view inferior race.

The election to morrow may change the whaspect of the affair. Frauds and violence merender the alection render the election nugatory, or there may be no election at all. As the case now stands, we are with the President. Scenes may occur to more with the president. with the President. Scenes may occur to morrow in the Territory that may alter the case entirely. We can afford to wait until we know what to-morrow shall have brought forth.

LT The extra session question is still an open one. Old-Liners well posted, say there will be none. The interests of the State require a session of the Legislature, and the interests of M. G. Bright and G. N. Fitch may be ruined by one. Gov. Willard, drunk or sober, is devoted to the latter interests, and will sacrifice all others to serve them. It is leared that whatever the consequences to the State may be, no extra session will be convened.—Logansport Jour.

The Logansport Journal may be mistaken as to the devotion of Governor Willard to Bright.—There are two sides to that bargain, and Willard looks to his own interest politically and pecuniarily. There is a rumor current in the political circles in this city that the Post-office at Indianapolis is a hone of contention between the narapolis is a bone of contention between the parties. We tell the tale as it was told to us, with out vouching for more than the probability of its correctness. To begin, then:

It is said that Willard owes Deputy Post master Taibott $2,000; that he, Willard, went to the Post-master the evening before he started to Washington, and asked—

"What will you give to have your nonfirmed by the Senate?" After reflecting awhile, the Post-n

"Your note due me for $2,000." When Willard arrived in Washington, he cal d upon Senator Bright and said to him

"Talbott's appointment as rost-master at In-anapolis must be confirmed."
"It can't be did," said Bright. "It must be!" said the Governor.

"It mus'nt!" rejoined the Senator.

After some hard swearing that it must and it sust'nt, it should and it should'nt, Willard said he would return to Indiana and call an extra session of the Legislature. Then the Senator said to him— "Wait, Willard, until to morrow, and we'll se what can be done."

Willard vaited and is waiting. The extra session depends—if there is truth in this story—upon the confirmation of Talbott. We copy the foregoing in full to show the "length and breadth" of the meanness of Black Republicanism, its utter unscrupulousness, and total disregard of decency and truth. The editor of the Courier knew that the foregoing charges, at the time he penned them, had no other foundation than his own coinage. We are au therized to say-That Governor Willard and Post-master Ta

bott had no such conversation, or any conversa tion, upon the subject of the latter's confirmatio by the Senate-That Governor Willard does not and never di owe Mr. Talbott $2,000, or any sum, and that he holds no note against Governor Willard for $2 .-000, or for any amount-That no such conversation took place between Governor Willard and Mr. Bright in Washington, or elsewhere-And that the calling of an extra session of the Legislature depends upon no such considerations Journal articles.

If the publication of the Courier art cle ha been confined to that sheet, we should not have thought it worth while to allude to it: but we notice that it is copied into some respectable opposition journals, which dignifies it sufficiently to give it this broad denial. The only apology that the Courier man can offer for his tals hoods is, that he was drunk at the time he wrote the arti cle, or is willing to lie for the purpose of getting a respectable paper or person to notice him.

They consider him so unreliable, unstable and vain-with such a passion for filthy lucre—that he could be bought up cheap whenever the opposition wished to use him, and it is thought unsafe to trust such a merchantable article. ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF INVITATION.S Invitations to dinner or supper should always be promptly acknowedged by a written acceptance or a written apology for declining, that the host may know how many guests to expect. It has sometimes happened that expensive dinners have been prepared for thirty guests, none of whom declined, yet not half of them would ap pear. Had the absentees been civil enough to have declined in season, others might have been invited, or the table would have been made smaller.

If invitations to balls or parties cannot be accept cepted, a written apology should be sent, even it on the evening of the entertainment. Guests at dinners or other entertainments bould call on their host within a week as an acknowledgment of the hospitality.

Post Office Department.—Some days since a large number of valuable Government books, worth $150,00, were affered at auction, but be worth $150,000, were affered at auction, but before the auction came off, they were withdrawn. It was discovered that they came from the Post Office. The person who brought them discovered his error, and took them back. He explained that they were without covers, and therefore fair plun-der! But, it is certain that no Government books are sent without covers. They must have had covers, and some equally honest person had taken them off. This sort of petty plundering should be circuitly avoided and forbidden at the office. The Postmaster, no doubt, is totally ignorant of this but it is a trick very likely to be practiced by un scrupulous persons. These books were surely directed to somebody, and if no owner can be found they belong to the Government, and no one has the right to take them.—Cin. Gaz.

This Company has been doing a very safe and reliable business, and we understand has met with very rair success. It confines its business exclusively to Indiana, and its risks throughout the State are regularly and carefully reviewed by some one from the Home office. It does not make any insurances upon the more hazardous description of property.

STAR MILL

IMPROVED, 1857. For Grinding Corn, Cob, Hominy or Mear and General Stock Feed.

Mean and General Stock Food.

Which is a by mile a superiority over all others now be termined to account of easy adjust ment, simple type of construction, economy of power, and rapid grinding.

For its now at an examen by which the grinding surfaces can be sonew to a pleasure, by any person, at a small cost; thereby regraving all objection on the score of durability.

The late it: provement, patented February, Sh. 1850, with the combination of Crushers and Saw-Teeth Segments does away entirely with the accumulation of Cob at the top of the Mill, which is now a great objection to all other feed mills.

top of the Mill, which is now a great objection to all other feed mills.

In this Mill, the Corn and Cob pass the ugh syether making an easy and uniform draught for the came and requiring but one attust bolt or screw; it can be regard fine or coarse at pleasure, or to so it very coar converts it at once into a Superior Corn Scheller. The stock Grower and Farmer can save 30 or 40 bushels of 0 in in each 100 by the use of this Mill, and having the countries of feeding own in the car. AT THE INDIANA STATE FAIR FOR 1856, The Star Corn and Cob Mill," Was awarded the premium in contest with Scott & Hedge's Double Coned Little Giant. Leavett's Young America Excessior, Wren's Eagle Mill. Brant's Stock Mill, Felton Power Mill.

The Star Mill was preferred above all others for the fineness of Grindling, the economy of its draft, and the general simplicity and strength of its construction. I was a glorious victory,—one that will give it a wide reputation in secure for it many friends throughout the Western and Southern States. Its operation far surpassed all the rest and the success which attended the practical trial is worthy of note.—Indiana State Journal.

A CONTEST.
The Star Mill still Aboud on the 24th of December, at Wabashtown. N. B.—We the undersigned citizens of Wabash County, having seen Leavitt's Excelsior Young America, Scott & Hedge's Little Giant and Joyce's Star Mill, each thorough ly tested in this place, and we take pleasure in saying that in our opinion, the Star Mill is entirely superior to all others. In one of the trials we witnessed, the Star Mill ground seven and a half bushels of Corn, while the Little Giant ground three and a half bushels—(the Young America was so far behind the others, that it does not deserve a notice;) and with less power than was applied to the Little Giant, H. HANNA, E. LASSELL, E. E. KEYS, H. W. HANNA.

A late Trial Test in Sullivan, Indiana

We, the undersigned, chosen to decide on the qualities of the Little Giant Mill and the Star Mill, after a full exami-nation of said Mills, seeing their performances, and hearing the explanations of the respective owners respecting each mill, conceive that there is a very little difference in the general claims of said Mills, but we feel constrained, all things consi-tered, that for general purposes, the preference is in favor of the Star Mill.

Respectfully submitted,

SPRING GROVE, Tippecanoe Co., Ind., 1856 Mr. Hunt .-- Having made trial of your Corn and Cob Crusher, I may produce to your recommendation in all respects, and a dially recommend it to all Farmers, as the most useful and economical method of preparing feed for Horses, Milk Cows Calves, &c Respectfully yours, Dr. S. JONES.

SHAWNER PRAIRIE, Tippecano Co., Ind., 1857.

Mr. Hunt.—Dear Sir: I think you can sell several mil's in my settlement. After testing your mill I am well as 's-isfled with it, as it grinds twice as fast as the "Y ung Amrice Mill." which was tested by my neighbor, Joshu Duncan, and proved to be a worthless Mill. He has since bought an interest in my Star Mill.

Respectfully yours.

JOHN J. DUNCAN.

April 28, 1852.

DAYTON, Tippecance Co., Ind., 1856, Mr. Hunt Sir: After testing your Mill, I consider the strength and rapid grinding of it superier to all others.

Respectfully yours,
M. O. GRAFT. Certificate.—I hereby certify that I have this day, after thoroughly testing one of J. O. Joyce's Star Corn Mills, purchased the same, and am well pleased with the entire operation of the Mill. In my opinion the Mill is fully equal to the recommendations which have been given it. I have also changed my Little Giant Mill, which I have had for over two years, in part payment for the Star Mill. I am well satisfied that the Star Mill is decidedly superior to the Little Giant in its grinding qualities and of much easier draft. I would recommend all Stock feeders to purchase the Star Mill in preference to all mills with which I am acquainted.

JOHN W. ODE: L. FOUNTAIN, Co., Ind., 1856.

Mr. Hunt & Co.—Sirs: I purchased one of your Star Corn and Cob Mills last winter, and I can recommend it to the public to be a good Mill, and preferable to the Grant Mill as I ased one of them before purchasing yours. I consider the Star Mill much the best Mill, add think every Farmer should use one for feeding purposes.
